DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

- Species I: a method for establishing a light beam with substantially constant luminous intensity comprising the step of controlling an attenuation of a light beam on the basis of occurrences of luminous intensity peaks in said light beam.
- Species II: a method for establishing a light beam whereby variable attenuation means comprises a wheel rotating around a centre of rotation.
- Species III: a method for establishing a light beam whereby variable attenuation means comprises a diaphragm establishing an aperture of variable size.
- Species IV: a method for establishing a light beam whereby variable attenuation means comprises an opaque plate and mounting means allowing said opaque plate in a variable degree to obstruct a light beam.
- Species V: a method for establishing a light beam whereby variable attenuation means comprises a displaceable sheet, said displacement being allowed in a plane perpendicular to the direction of a light beam.

- Species VI: a method for establishing a light beam whereby variable attenuation means comprises at least one spatial light modulator.
- Species VII: a method for establishing a light beam whereby variable attenuation means comprises at least one pivotally mounted mirror and at least one attenuation filter.
- Species VIII: a method for establishing a light beam whereby variable attenuation means comprises means for changing a direction of a light beam.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowed generic claim. Currently, the following claims are generic:

- Claims 1 and 7-10 are generic to Species II and V.
- Claims 1 and 7 are generic to Species III, IV, VII and VIII.
- Claims 1 and 7-9 are generic to Species VI.

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

- a. Species I – claims 1-34 and 68-76.
- b. Species II – claims 35-44.
- c. Species III – claims 45-46.
- d. Species IV – claims 47-48.
- e. Species V – claims 49-57.
- f. Species VI – claims 58-65.
- g. Species VII – claim 66.
- h. Species VIII – claim 67.

The following claims are generic: 1 and 7-10.

REQUIREMENT FOR UNITY OF INVENTION

As provided in 37 CFR 1.475(a), a national stage application shall relate to one invention only or to a group of inventions so linked as to form a single general inventive concept ("requirement of unity of invention"). Where a group of inventions is claimed in a national stage application, the requirement of unity of invention shall be fulfilled only when there is a technical relationship among those inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding special technical features. The expression "special technical features" shall mean those technical features that define a contribution which each of the claimed inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art.

The determination whether a group of inventions is so linked as to form a single general inventive concept shall be made without regard to whether the inventions are claimed in separate claims or as alternatives within a single claim. See 37 CFR 1.475(e).

WHEN CLAIMS ARE DIRECTED TO MULTIPLE CATEGORIES OF INVENTIONS

As provided in 37 CFR 1.475(b), a national stage application containing claims to different categories of invention will be considered to have unity of invention if the claims are drawn only to one of the following combinations of categories:

(1) A product and a process specially adapted for the manufacture of said product; or

(2) A product and process of use of said product; or

(3) A product, a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and a use of the said product; or

(4) A process and an apparatus or means specifically designed for carrying out the said process; or

(5) A product, a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and an apparatus or means specifically designed for carrying out the said process.

Otherwise, unity of invention might not be present. See 37 CFR 1.475(c).

2. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims.

Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder.

All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
